Dear Mr. Dulles:

STAT Yesterday, Mr. [] gave a carefully selected group of our executives an analysis of the economic and political situation in Africa and the Middle East. We felt extremely fortunate in having this opportunity to gain such a clear insight into the exceedingly cloudy and, in some cases, dangerous situations that are evolving in some of these areas.

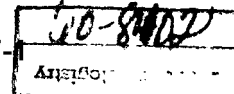

As I think you know, we have, on several occasions, had the privilege of discussing some of our problems with Mr. [] and we have always benefited from his clear and unvarnished comments. It is hard for us to conceive and follow a long-term investment policy in some of these areas and it is enormously helpful to have the benefit of this kind of report.

We are very grateful to you for making this discussion possible and grateful to Mr. [] for giving us so generously of his time.

With kind regards,

Albert Nickerson
